The incomparable charm of three Natural Beauties

Allow me to introduce the 4-Star DasPosthotel, the Chalets Deluxe HochLeger and the GolfLodge, which together are known as the “Natural Beauties”. These three luxurious hideaways in the popular holiday region of Austria’s Ziller Valley each offer an outstanding design concept based on the combination of high quality wood and other natural materials, modern comfort and loving attention to detail.

“We are fervent supporters of the genuine, the authentic and the beautiful. For us, beauty is always found in naturalness,” explains Christina Binder-Egger, the host of the three Natural Beauties. The dominant material of the hotel and holiday apartments is wood from spruce, oak and Swiss pine trees. “The untreated wood continues to live. We love to see it change its colour over time. The patina gives life and elegance to the rooms,” adds Christina Binder-Egger. The unique result is a warm and exclusive ambiance, where the guests feel at home as soon as they set foot on the properties.

Variety, individuality, quality of service and culinary delights are high on the agenda of the host family and the staff at the Natural Beauties. All the accommodation is certified with both the Austrian and the EU Eco Label, ensuring that each of them offers its very own charm and advantages for its guests.

Life is beautiful at the Posthotel

There must be a reason why the German football club Werder Bremen chose Das-Posthotel as the accommodation for his summer training camp in 2014. Flair, style and charisma characterise the design hotel in the centre of Zell in the heart of the Ziller Valley, a gateway to one of Austria’s best ski arenas in winter and its most versatile hiking area in summer. The possibilities to experience nature up close are endless, while you’ve also got smart boutiques, cafes and restaurants just round the corner.

As the first of the three Natural Beauties, the Posthotel opened its doors in 2010. With the natural warmth of the materials, the harmonious interplay of fabrics, colours and light and the purist simplicity of the design, the hosts have created a home-away-from-home for their guests. Each room, apartment and suite is equipped with Sky-TV, Wi-Fi and a SuitePad with the latest news, internet, movies and games. A reading selection including the latest magazines and good holiday reads awaits on every floor.

To ensure that their guests have the freedom to tailor their holidays to their individual wishes the host family have come up with some innovative ideas; “Book a cook” is just one of them. Guests who are reluctant to leave the cosiness of their apartment but do not want to miss out on a delicious dinner can order a cook who will treat them to freshly prepared Tyrolean cuisine made from local, organic ingredients. “Beauty means buying the products from the local farmer and thus being able to enjoy the full flavour of these honest dishes,” is the philosophy of the house, which is perfectly reflected in the breakfast buffet: Zillertal dairy products, handmade organic jams and honey from the hotel’s hives...

After an active day in the fresh mountain air, a visit to the small but exquisite wellness area will be more than welcome. Four different saunas and a Turkish steam bath relax your muscles. The heated outdoor pool makes swimming a real treat all year round. Massages and beauty treatments from an experienced professional team complete the indulgent experience.

High above of everyday life: the HochLeger Chalets

Relaxation seekers, nature lovers and those who enjoy the finer things in life will find their holiday haven at the HochLeger Chalets amidst the untamed nature of the mountains. Following the same design philosophy as the Posthotel, the host family opened these luxurious mountain chalets in 2013. Wood types such as pine, larch and fir come together with natural materials to combine a warm and “fragrant” atmosphere. At an altitude of 1,054m the chalets provide unrivalled solitude and tranquility without compromising on service and comfort. Upon arrival there are organic foods such as farm-fresh eggs, milk, freshly baked bread, butter, and much more awaiting you in your food pantry. Wine lovers will find a well-stocked wine rack too. In the mornings, freshly baked rolls and pastries are delivered. And again, if you prefer not to cook, simply “book a cook”.

With a private open-air hot tub at each chalet, the mountain sauna and a pool with a small waterfall guaranteeing pure relaxation after an eventful day outdoors, your body will be grateful and beauty treatments and massages can be booked at the Posthotel.

Time out on the Green at the Golfodge

Opened in January 2014, the GolfLodge is the youngest child in the family of the Natural Beauties. Located right by the 4th tee on the Zillertal golf course in Uderns, golf fans find an 18-hole championship course, large practice facility with a covered driving range, short-course and a PGA golf school on the doorstep. Guests are free to book as many or as few services as they like: fresh bread delivered for breakfast, book a cook, kitchen stocking service, to name but a few. For the ultimate reinvigoration, a pine sauna with a wellness shower, relaxation room and an outdoor pool await the tired guest.

So, why not recharge your batteries before the Christmas hassle starts? The Natural Beauties offer great packages in autumn including three nights at the Posthotel, a pampering massage and dinner with a private cook.
